

President Harding to Visit Newport First of August

He Will Be Guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffer Tailor—
Many New Arrivals.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 2.—August will be the biggest month in the history of Newport if present arrangements carry forth. All the "old guard" are coming back from Europe, and it was learned today that President Harding will come for a few days on August 1 as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffer Tailor of Honesuckle Lodge.

Besides being a close friend of Mr. Tailor's one of the chief incidents of the President's visit will be to play over the new golf course belonging to Mr. Tailor, which has just been completed this year. It is said by golf experts and architects to be the sportiest course in the world. All of the holes have been modeled after the best holes in both this and other countries, and the course is attracting much attention. The inaugural event at the course will be the afternoon of July 3 and 10, when two yachting parties will arrive for a tryout on the links.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Widener again will spend the summer here and already are on their way back from Europe. They have leased, through Messrs. Deblols and Eldridge, the Muenchinger White House in Cottage street. There is a general exodus from Europe, and more persons are headed for Newport than at any time in the last few years. Mr. and Mrs. William Goadby Loew and the Misses Florence and Evelyn Loew, who have just returned from Europe, will arrive at the Bellevue avenue residence the latter part of next week.

Mr. Henry F. Eldridge has arrived from New York and has with him his brother, Rex. They will be staying at the George Henry Warren as has been arranged for the holidays, joining Mrs. Warren at Sea Fields. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald B. Rives are among those joining the exodus from Europe.

Mr. W. Woodward Phelps has returned from Annapolis after an extended visit with his husband, Capt. Phelps, U. S. N., who is convalescent from an attack of pneumonia. Capt. Phelps is so much improved that he will join his family here soon. He will be on the staff of Rear-Admiral Sims at the War College.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley have taken Elm Court and will arrive next week. Mr. Charles Howard Russell of New York is visiting Mr. George Gordon at the Marlborough. Mr. and Mrs. Ashbel S. Barney is with Mr. Norman de R. Whitehouse for the holidays.

Mrs. William Farnsworth will give a luncheon on Wednesday at her cottage, Gravel Court.

The steam yacht Narada arrived today with Mr. Henry Walters, N. Y. Y. C., on board.

Children's festival is to be given at the Newport Art Association during the second week in August on the grounds of the Cushing Memorial, with Miss Edith Wetmore and Miss Ruth Thomas in charge. In connection with it will be an exhibition of sketches, modeling and arts and crafts work.

Bishop and Mrs. James H. Darlington are entertaining over the Fourth Mr. Philip Livingston of New York and Bar Harbor.

Chief among the entertainments for the holiday will be dinners both Sunday and Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence V. Van der Veer, who are from Washington; Mr. and Mrs. William Farnsworth, Messrs. Ronald Pearce, James W. Barney and David K. Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Lovett of Boston, Capt. Douglas E. Dillman, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gould Jennings, who is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan, and Dr. J. Madison Taylor, who is to spend the holidays with Mr. Lippman Stewart at the White House.

Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont has returned to the White House cottage at Groton Neck after a short visit in New York.

COTTAGES FILLED AT HOT SPRINGS

Mr. A. W. Mellon, Secretary of Treasury, to Join Colony.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 2.—The occupancy of Barton Lodge for the summer by Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, will give the Hot Springs colony a new member. Mr. Mellon and his daughter, Miss Alice Mellon, are to arrive from Washington soon. All the cottages now practically are occupied.

Mrs. Calderon Carls has arrived from Washington and is at her cottage, which adds to the list of Col. and Mrs. Arthur Kelly Evans of Atlanta. Mrs. Evans has been joined by her son, Mr. Joseph B. Whitehead, and Mr. and Mrs. James Mandeville. Mrs. Mandeville is at Rosamund Cottage. Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Warrington have opened their large place, Mrs. Edgar H. Bright and Miss Elmer Bright are expected shortly to arrive from New York. Mr. and Mrs. Bright will arrive late in the autumn. Mr. and Mrs. Herman D. Newcomb of New York are continuing at the Walker cottage, where they have been for the last six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton B. Ferguson, Jr., soon will give up the Lanier Dunn house, which has been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson probably will pass part of the summer at Fishers Island in Long Island Sound. Miss Ruth Harrison of Cincinnati will entertain a number of her friends at the Marlborough. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald B. Rives, who are from Washington, are settled in the Tinker house at the head of the golf course.

The week has been of very much interest and activity at the Hot Springs. Mr. Charles Delevan Wetmore returned from a fortnight's absence in New York to rejoin Mrs. Wetmore and their family. Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Wells also Mrs. Bennett J. King, accompanied by Mrs. Julien L. Meyers, who are to remain until August 30, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cowper arrived by automobile from Buffalo. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. W. Samson and Miss Alice Samson reached the Hot Springs by automobile from New York for a brief visit on a tour of the Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Parke (Miss Emily Wehler) are among the colonists from New York daily on the golf course. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Parke, Mr. and Mrs. F. Beverley Byrne, Jr. of New York, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Canby and Mrs. John H. Whitaker of Philadelphia walked to Valley View for tea.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

NEW YORK.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Taylor Pyne, Jr., have gone to Princeton, N. J.

Mrs. Charles T. Barney has gone to Southampton, L. I.

Mr. Ogden L. Mills has gone to Woodbury, L. I., from Washington for a few days.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Seward Webb are entertaining a party at their house in Shelburne, Vt., over the Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert H. Gary are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman at Elberon, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver G. Jennings have come to Fairfield, Conn., to remain until July 15, when they go to their home in Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Chester Noyes, who are at the country home of Mrs. Pierre Mail in Plainfield, N. J., will start soon for the Adirondacks to pass the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodrick Tower, who have been passing two months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, at Westbury, L. I., returned last Thursday to California.

Mrs. Douglas Robinson is a guest of her son, Mr. Theodore Douglas Robinson, in Henderson, N. Y. She will start for Europe on July 16 and will visit France and England.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Flint and Miss Margaret D. Flint will visit Islip, L. I., Tuesday for the Adirondacks, where they have rented the Packard camp, Upper Saranac Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scribner have gone to Quogue, L. I., from Morristown, N. J., to be guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scribner, Jr.

Mrs. E. Henry Harriman, who was a guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. Penn Smith, Jr., at East Williston, L. I., has returned to Arden, N. Y.

Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly and Miss Ruth Vanderbilt Twombly, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Allen M. Thomas, will start for Europe next Tuesday by the Aquitania. They will visit England, France, Italy and Switzerland, and will return to New York by the middle of September. Mrs. Twombly will not open Vinland, her house in Newport, this year.

The Ambassador of Spain and Senora de Riano have returned to Washington from New York.

The Ambassador of Chili and Senora de Mathias who had planned to sail for Europe yesterday have postponed their journey for a month. They will pass the Fourth in New York.

Countess Constance de Catin of Orleans, France, has returned to Washington from a visit in the South.

The Marquise de Charette, who is visiting Washington, has been entertained by old friends. The Marquise being her marriage was Miss Susanne Henning of Kentucky.

Lieut.-Commander Richard S. Field, assistant naval attaché at Rome, Italy, has been ordered to New York for duty on board the receiving ship of the port.

Mr. and Mrs. Waddy B. Wood and their daughter, Miss Lindsay Wood, are entertaining a party of friends for the Fourth in their country home near Waretown, Va.

LENOX CLUB GIVES DANCE FOR VISITORS

Supper Served at Midnight on the Verandas.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LENOX, MASS., July 2.—The first dance of the season was given at the Lenox Club to-night for Independence Day visitors. It was in charge of the house committee, who are Messrs. Frederick S. Delafield, Newbold Morris, Herbert Parsons, Graud Foster and David T. Dana.

The Aspinwall Hotel orchestra played and supper was served on the verandas at midnight.

Dinners were given before the dance by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Astor Bristed, who have as guests at Lakeville Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Ewart, Mr. William E. Shepherd, Jr., and Mr. Diego de Suarez, all of New York, and by Mrs. Edwards Spencer, who has at Shilton Court Mr. and Mrs. Bard MacD. Squires and Mr. Jay Cogson of New York, Miss Josephine McClellan of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Alpheus Bulky of Albany.

Mrs. William Pollock had a dinner party followed by bridge at Holmesdale, in Pittsfield, for Mrs. W. Leonard Davis of New York, Mr. Charles Lanier, who has his grandson, Mr. Reginald H. Lanier, as a guest at Allen Winden, gave a family dinner entertainment.

Arrivals at the Red Lion Inn at Stockbridge include the Messrs. Melville E. and George H. Ingalls, Miss Katherine E. Ingalls and Mr. and Mrs. Winslow S. Pierce of Bayville, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Beekman Winthrop of New York are stopping with his mother, Mrs. Robert Winthrop, at Ethelwyn, in Lenox.

Miss Minnie P. Tilden and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Merrill of New York are at Heaton Hall, in Stockbridge.

Mr. Henry Yates Satterlee, son of Mrs. Churchill Satterlee, and his fiancée, Miss Carolyn Ransel of Boston, are at the grandmothers, Mrs. George Winthrop Folson, at Sunnyside, in Lenox, for the holidays.

Mrs. Carl A. de Gersdorff, chairman of the sports committee of the New York Exchange for Women's Work, will hold a sale for the benefit of the exchange at her summer home in Stockbridge, July 4, assisted by Mrs. H. H. Pease, chairman of the vocational bureau of the exchange.

RECOVERING FROM OPERATIONS. Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, author, and Supreme Court Justice John M. Tierney and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who are in hospitals following operations recently performed, were reported yesterday to be improving steadily.

SOCIAL NOTES. Mrs. Emily Daugherty Raley, daughter of Attorney-General Daugherty of Washington, D. C., was the guest today at a luncheon given by Mrs. Clement E. Dunbar at the Ritz-Carlton.

Mrs. Raley is the house guest of Col. and Mrs. Thomas B. Fielder at Greenwich.

Representative and Mrs. John I. Nolan of California are at the Belmont Hotel.

Mrs. Joseph Bell Cotton and her daughters, Misses Josephine and Mary Cotton, are to spend the summer in England and Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stetson of Graham Court will pass the summer in Europe.

Many New Faces on Bathing Beach at Southampton

Dinner Parties Precede First of Saturday Night Dances at Meadow Club.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 2.—There was a revival of outdoor life this morning in this colony, which for two days has been hushed because of the rain. The lawn tennis courts at the Meadow Club were all taken up for the morning hours. In the evening the first of the Saturday night dances was held there. There were crowds on the bathing beach before luncheon. Afterward scores took advantage of the day for golf.

There were many new faces at the beach. Mr. and Mrs. A. Perry Osborn, who are with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steele, came with their host, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Saportas, who recently returned to New York from their wedding trip, came with Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfe. Mrs. Saportas wore a gown that gave a bit of variety to the scene. It was of bright red chintz, figured with black, and she wore also a hat of natural leghorn straw.

Mrs. Stephen Peabody brought her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Eastman, who arrived last night. Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue Livingston and Miss Corneille Livingston, who arrived yesterday on board the Adriatic, were there, as also were Mrs. Charles W. Plummer and Mr. George Ledlie, who came with Mrs. George G. DeWitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potter, who brought with them Mrs. Graham Williams and Mr. John Moffatt, who recently returned from England. He will sail back on board the Olympic on Wednesday.

Mrs. Katherine Harris Barrymore came with Mrs. Rawson L. Wood, with whom she is staying for the holiday. One of the new arrivals was James T. Terry, who wore with her euryline costume a wrap of gay colored chintz of pale yellow, with a Chinese pattern.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Armour, who returned yesterday from Europe, are with his mother, Mrs. Pauline A. Talbot, who is with Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Connell, who moved from New York and are at their place in Shinnecock Hills.

Mrs. John Turner Atterbury entertained her friends at luncheon at the Meadow Club.

Mrs. Fairfax Stuart Landstreet has joined at The Breakers her brother, Mr. Thomas Beall Davis, whose other guests are Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McK. Veigh, Messrs. Henry Pearce of Providence and Edward H. Jewett of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowry Edey have arrived, with her sister, Mrs. George Edey.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald G. McIlwaine, Jr., will arrive from Albany Friday for ten days with his mother, Mrs. Joseph Palmer Knapp, at The Acres.

Mrs. Knapp will give a dinner on Thursday for Mrs. William G. Rockefeller, who with her son, Mr. Godfrey S. Rockefeller, will be here for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. William McKnight, who are with her mother, Mrs. Isaac V. Brokaw, at Penrhyn, will start for Bar Harbor on Wednesday.

Mrs. Arenta Humphreys gave a dinner to-night at Wyndecote. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. Hayward Grayson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stewart Grayson, Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Thomas, Miss Eleanor L. Roy Lawrence, Messrs. Harold Lane, William Ielien and W. Scott Cameron. There were many informal dinners at the Meadow Club, also at the villas, and afterward nearly all members of the colony gathered at the club for the dance. Miss Byrne's orchestra played. Dancing ended at midnight.

Mr. A. Coster Schermerhorn has joined his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Schermerhorn, bringing with him Mr. John T. Lawrence, a classmate at Yale.

There was a housewarming to-night at the better varieties of sport. Members of this colony motoring there for the reception and dance. The reception committee was composed of Messrs. Percy L. House, president of the club, Harry H. Frank, Howell, Greivance, Walter F. Barnes, Ode G. Pike, Frank Satterlee, John S. Howe, Cedric E. Luce, Walter Debevoise and George H. Perkins.

MRS. OLIVER HARRIMAN AT WHITE SULPHUR

Takes a Cottage at the West Virginia Resort.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., July 2.—Mrs. Oliver Harriman is now making her first visit here, having taken a cottage for the summer, and Mrs. Charles Hopper, Mr. John Harriman and Mr. J. Borden Harriman are with her. The party has been appearing on the golf links almost every day.

Mrs. Daniel Bacon, who came June 1, is remaining for an extended visit. Her son-in-law, Mr. John Aspergren, who was here at the time, has returned to New York and is now with Mrs. Aspergren in Newport.

One of the latest additions to the cottagers was made by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Donohue, who are here from New York with their daughters, Miss Julia Donohue and Miss Barbara Donohue, and Master W. L. Burton. They will occupy Casino cottage, usually the summer home of Mrs. W. McKenna, also a visitor at White Sulphur Springs during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Cadwalader and Mr. Charles M. Cadwalader have returned to Philadelphia. They expect to return this summer.

The Chicago colony includes Mr. Harold A. Howell, a lawyer, the son of the late Samuel A. Smith, formerly court clerk of Essex county, and resides with his mother at 791 Lake street, Newark. He is a member of the Essex Club and Essex County Club, and is president of the Lawyers' Club of Essex county. He served as a lieutenant in the chemical warfare service.

MISS WARREN ENGAGED. Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Mrs. Thomas E. Warren of Ticonderoga announces the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Constance Warren, to Mr. Jonathan Moore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Moore of Bronxville, N. Y., and grandson of the late Commodore and Mrs. Harrison B. Moore. Miss Warren was educated at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Albany, N. Y. Mr. Moore served overseas with the Twenty-seventh Division.

MISS MADEIRA MAYER. Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Miss Madeira Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayer of 849 St. Nicholas avenue, and Morris Bernard B. Fleischer, were married at the home of the bride's parents Thursday evening, June 25.

Miss Virginia B. Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Harrison, on the Governor-General of the Philippines, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Charles H. White of Baltimore.

Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis of Louisville, Mrs. Quintana Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Jones rode over High Top Mountain this week.

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH IS ENGAGED TO JACQUES BALSAN

Prominent French Sportsman to Marry the Former Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, Whose Husband Wedded Miss Gladys Deacon in Paris Last Week.

PARIS, July 2.—The Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York, who recently was divorced and whose former husband married Miss Gladys Deacon last week in Paris, will be married to Jacques Balsan, a prominent French sportsman, at the Westminster Registry Office in London in a few days, it is declared by the Continental edition of the Daily Mail.

Reports that the Duchess was to be married to Mr. Balsan have been current for several months, but have been frequently denied.

Jacques Balsan has been a well known figure in Paris for a number of years, particularly in the circles that surround the better varieties of sport. He is a member of the family of the name whose mists have supplied a large part of the cloth used for uniforms of the French Army. He is reputed to be very wealthy.

With a brother he has supported a racing stable in France for several years and while he has been a consistent supporter of the French turf he also has been a supporter of aviation.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

The Duchess, a daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt and the present Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, was married to the Duke of Marlborough on November 6, 1896, in St. Thomas's Church, New York. The difference of the Duke and Duchess existed several years before the divorce. Two sons were born to them, the Marquess of Blandford, who married the Hon. Mary Digby a year ago, and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill.

As one of the three vice-presidents of the French Aero Club, Balsan followed closely the development of the airplane from the early days of flying. He also is an expert pilot of balloons and dirigibles. As a balloonist he once competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup in France.

Many Americans in Paris Register at The Herald Office